

Anahuac and McFaddin National Wildlife Refuge's Alligator Trapping Permit Application 2012

The U.S. Fish and Wildlife Service will be conducting an alligator harvest on Anahuac and McFaddin National Wildlife Refuges from September 10-20, 2012. The primary purpose of the harvest is to maintain healthy alligator populations while reducing negative effects on other wildlife species and protecting refuge infrastructure. Experienced alligator hunters will be randomly selected from a pool of qualified applicants. A drawing will be held on Thursday, August 23, 2012 at 7:00 pm at the Texas Chenier Plain Refuges Complex Headquarters, 4017 FM 563, Anahuac, Texas. If selected, the permit is for one year. The Service reserves the right to renew selected permittees for up to four additional years.

The number of alligator tags issued will be dependent on trap area and permit allocation from the State of Texas. Selected permittees will be required to participate in the use of approved experimental harvest techniques at various locations and units on the refuge. Selected permittees can expect an average of 25 to 50 tags per season made up of both Management Tags for alligators less than six feet total length and standard CITES tags. Permittees are expected to have at least one active set out per tag every day during the 10 day season until tags are filled. Hunters are required to check lines and/or attempt to harvest alligators on a daily basis. A portion of the sales of harvested alligators will be collected by the U.S. Fish and Wildlife Service. This portion will vary based on the size of the alligator.

Complete applications are required. Please follow instructions carefully, as incomplete or late applications will not be considered for the drawing. Applications must be received in the Texas Chenier Plain Refuges Complex office or visitor center, by 4:00 pm on Sunday, August 19, 2012.
